FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

ARE WE SLAVES?

Canadians have been told that this country is bound tightly by monopoly, ridden by cartels. That would indeed be an awkward position. I can't think of anything to compare with it, except possibly to have one's foot caught in the stirrup when the saddle girth has slipped and the rider finds himself beneath instead of on top of the horse, writes R. J. Deachman.

In order to relieve the average man who very definitely does not want to be the slave of either cartels or combines, the modern devils of the day, I present a few figures which give the facts. Read them, remembering as you do that cartels and combines are supposed to raise prices in the countries in which they function—and, at least as far as the records show, they function feebly in Canada:

Price Index Increases since the Outbreak of War to February, 1945, in Canada and Other Countries.

(Pre-war level—100)	Cost of Living	Wholesale
Canada	117.7	142.3
Australia	122.5	143.2
United States	128.7	140.3
Great Britain	130.3	170.4
Eire	170.5
Mexico	201.6	178.6
Chile	222.8	219.2
India	218.1	299
Turkey, April, 1944	279	463

All that remains is to point out two things:

- (1) Our cost of living seems to be, at least as low, as that of any other leading country in the world which has had a part in the war—this includes also those which kept out of war.
- (2) Wholesale prices are low in Canada, close to the lowest.

What conclusion can we reach in regard to the suggestions that this is a monopoly ridden country? It may be that combines and cartels are beneficent—I don't believe it for a moment—though in one form or another they may be a part of this world for many a day.

What is the other conclusion: Cartels and combines affect only a part of our economy—and a comparatively small portion—small compared with the exaggerations heard about them. It is then a situation which calls for reason, not panic, careful study rather than gullibility. Speaking or writing of crimes—gullibility, a willingness to accept everything we hear, is certainly a major one. Better that we should spend sometime exploring the facts, if only as a means of putting us on guard against those, who, with great persistence urge us to believe—not always the truth, but the things they want us to believe.

ONE MEETS SUCH INTERESTING PEOPLE

First trip through the mountains, she told us at lunch. She'd gone west by T.C.A. to Vancouver, had visited Seattle. Funny how the Seattle people had crowded the boat. They just don't listen to the radio. There'd been warnings that Vancouver and Victoria were jammed but just the same one couldn't get a seat on the deck. People really were funny.

She was stopping off a day or two in Regina to see some friends and then was going on to Montreal by air. No more trains for her; they're too slow. She wouldn't come again until the war was really over, but cottage vacations had really got to be quite a bore.

No, she hadn't had any trouble about plane reservations. The firm she works for has all kinds of priorities and she got what she wanted. There were two women kept off the plane in Winnipeg and they made an awful fuss but the silly things should have stayed home in the first place.—The Printed Word.

FAILURE

To most men, failure is an enemy, but to those of perception she is a friend. She is a guardian on strange paths, the guide to the strongholds of success. Her fee is sincerity and truth.

To some, the company of failure is shameful. To the wise, she is an inspiration. Her touch renews their courage, spurs their effort, rekindles their hope. They know the restraint of failure has not destroyed the dream; it has merely pointed out the wrong road.

Scientists know that. Edison dreamed the electric lamp, and tried some 2,400 materials before he perfected a practical filament. Two thousand failures? No, just 2,000 new ideas: all the ways it couldn't be done.

The years of effort Pierre and Marie Curie invested in the isolation of radium: were they a record of failure? They would have been, if, to the Curies failure had not been inspiration. The long and continuing annals of the conquest of disease are an endless record of unsuccessful trial, challenging the courage and imagination to still further effort.

A wise father will buy his son boards, and let him make a box. The corners may not be square; the lid may not fit, but the boy will have learned more about the next box than if the father had saved him from his failure with the first.

Failure is humiliating when the same lesson has to be learned twice. It is shameful when it results from the overweening vanity of success. Success teaches some men much the same lesson that failure would. It sobers them, and impels them to walk humbly before their destiny. For the others, who think success is an occasion for pride, disaster awaits around some hidden corner, in the company of oblivion. With them stands failure, stern and unrelenting.

THE THINGS MONEY CAN'T BUY

The late George Horace Lorimer for many years editor of the Saturday Evening Post, once wrote these words: "It is a good thing to have money and the things that money can buy, but it is good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy."

The things that money can't buy would make a long list. Here are some of them:

Money can't buy real friendship—friendship must be earned.

Money can't buy a clear conscience—square dealing is the price tag.

Money can't buy happiness—happiness is a mental condition and one may be as happy in a cottage as in a mansion.

Money can't buy sunsets, songs of wild birds, and the music of the wind in the trees—these are as free as the air we breathe.

Money can't buy inward peace—peace is the result of a constructive philosophy of life.

Money can't buy a good character—good character is achieved through decent habits of private living and wholesome dealings in our open contracts with our fellow men.

Continue the list yourself. You'll agree that among the things money can't buy are some of the most valuable treasures life has to offer.

IF YE BREAK FAITH

"If ye break faith"—you will remember McCrae's immortal poem written during the last war.

Well, we did break faith. We let the men who came home face conditions that drove them nearly crazy. Back in Canada they faced a more insidious foe than they had in Flanders. They faced an inflation that whipped thousands of them. They didn't have a chance to build homes, get started in a small business... buy equipment for a farm.

Hundreds of them died of sheer discouragement, thousands grew hard and bitter and resentful... no wonder.

Their new "civics" cost them $75 to $100 a suit. Shoes were from $12 to $18 a pair. Work socks cost $1.25 a pair. Their wives were trying to run a house with food prices that were utterly beyond their capacity to pay.

Many young homesteaders on the prairie had enlisted, and when they returned to their farms to start over again the prices of stock were terrific. They paid $500 to $700 for a team of plow horses; $80 to $100 for a cow; $2 apiece for hens. Plows, harrows, discs, harness, feed were all priced accordingly. The upshot of it was that hundreds of them failed, and became a burden on the country they had fought to keep free. They died of slow hunger and discouragement. Their children grew up bitter and hard as nails.

Are we going to "break faith" again, Canada?

No government, no set of rules can save us from a post-war inflation. It's in the hands of eleven million Canadians whether inflation will overcome us again, or not. We have the say. It's our country... our government... our world. Fighting together, like the boys overseas, we can whip anything on earth, even hard times.

BUZZ-SAW MUSIC

It is strange how a vagrant sound, which you might have heard yesterday, will strike through to a long-lost memory and call forth a day that is past—so far past. This time it was the whine of a buzz-saw. You recalled a certain day when your father bought a cord of wood and hired a man with a portable buzz-saw to cut it up for him.

That was a great day. The little gas engine, connected by belt with the saw, was a marvel of ingenuity. It chugged once or twice at intervals, until the saw bit into the wood, when the extra load woke the spark, and the exhaust coughed with every revolution. To your mind, that engine had power!

You weren't aware of it then, but the whine of that saw was to become part of your being. The high-pitched "whi-i-ine" waving down and back was punctuated by a sharp "zing" at the end of each cut. It raucous music had a crude rhythm which you measured off unconsciously. It was fascinating to watch the whirling teeth bite through the wood, smooth and clean, as if it were butter. Once or twice they let you hold a piece as the saw cut through it.

The pile of sticks beside the saw table grew. As the breeze swirled around it, it brought you the unforgettable aroma of newly cut wood. You looked at the sawn ends, pleased to find one where the saw had cut through a knot. You counted the rings which measured the years the tree had lived.

Altogether, it was an exciting day. Nothing in it was marred, even when your father suggested you would be helping to pile the wood, after he had split it. That would be on another day. This day was filled with music and adventure; life's cup was full.

A reliable man soon gains the attention and respect of his employer. When an opportunity arises, this fellow is usually the first in line to get it.

Before you go to sleep tonight ask yourself if the firm you are with, and the world in general, is any better off because of your having lived another day.

The flag pole on the town lot, next the bank, has been fixed so it can be raised and lowered on a hinge.

Highway Road Foreman Peter Robertson and his crew have finished giving the old street a coating of tar and fine stone.

"Chuck" Walker with a brand new, long handled shovel. Had no idea Mrs. Walker was strong enough to handle a shovel that size.

Heat waves rising off the pavement last week reminded one of the tropics. We could have used that heat last December 11th and 12th.

Norm. Harris telling Bob Bourne that none of the bum fruit going on the market is his, because he does not grow any peaches that are smaller than a softball.

"Jimmy" Dunham trying to explain to "new Canadians" that meat ration tokens are not sold in two dollar lots, but must be obtained in exchange for a coupon. A tedious job.

6.45 in the a.m. West, the Barber, sweeping off his sidewalk. 8.45 a.m. just two hours later Ernie Buckenham sweeping off his sidewalk. 5.45 p.m. a lot of sidewalks that never felt a broom all day, every day.

Your present job is the road you are now travelling on. It may be a main road, a detour, or a connecting road, but it surely is attached to the great highways that lead to the ultimate of our dreams.

trols and price ceilings. We must support and urge the support of rationing. We must buy only what we need, and only at fair markets.

If we do this, we can make plans for the future as part of a Nation that is economically sound. If we don't, we're going to find some day that our dollar will buy only a quarter's worth of goods. And that means that dollar is only worth a quarter. This is inflation!

Up to now, Canada's controls have really worked. We've been able to prevent inflation. But we must fight now to keep those controls working, until the supply of civilian goods can come up to the demand! What happened after the last war must not happen again! For the sake of our children, for our returned soldiers, for ourselves let's keep up the fight against inflation.

Make this Pledge Today!

I pledge myself to do my part in fighting inflation:

By observing rationing and avoiding black markets in any shape or form.

By respecting price controls and other anti-inflation measures, and refraining from careless and unnecessary buying. I will not buy two where one will do, nor will I buy a "new" where an "old" will do.

By buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Stamps, supporting taxation and abiding by all such measures which will lower the cost of living and help keep prices at a normal level.

Silence Is Golden

Girls with a conversational gift are apt to think it is that kind of thing that attracts men. But there are men, of course, who like their women silent. That type are likely to choose Washington's new first lady as their favorite pin-up girl. Mrs. Truman, it is said, has never been known to make a speech.

Will They—Or Will They Not?

Appropos this knotty discussion whether postwar women will or will not return to their kitchens . . . a male reader goes back a long way to ponder:

"Did Eve defer to Adam's wishes
And spend her time in washing dishes?
Ah me, these problems cease men's brows
And make them rue their marriage vows;
They make the female species think
Their chiefest curse, the kitchen sink!"

Jeeps To Become Washing Machines

Now that peace is really here . . . a thousand years of it we hope . . . the wheels of industry have begun to turn to peacetime goods. But we will have to be patient for quite some time yet.

Accompanying the lifting of many restrictions, Finance Minister Ilsley said, in a recent broadcast, "Though we opened the way for the production of many civilian goods, consumers must not expect an immediate increase in these commodities."

It will take months to re-convert machines back to making household articles. Machines that once made bombers, jeeps and jet-propelled planes will turn to peace time goods.

Fighter planes have released copper for new eaves-troughs. Rocket guns will take a back seat to frigidaires and toasters. The aluminum and steel alloys will come to town as new washing machines. Even the kitchen sink is back in its old place . . . large as life.

The metal from one jeep will boil back into five washing machines. Two old steel helmets will make a brand new toaster.

Fruit juice squeezers are hand-me-downs from hand grenades. Your new skid chains were anti-aircraft shells. Your new bicycle tire might have been a gas mask. We can thank the stars they weren't needed.

The new lawn mower perhaps saw service as a 25-pounder gun. Material that might have gone into a half-ton truck will make five bath tubs.

Steel—Copper—iron—tin plate—alloys—lead—brass—zinc, have all been to war along with the boys.

Now, they can stay home and be made into thousands of household gadgets.

You will need to remember that it took Canada quite a long time to get into high gear for war—it will take months to get back into gear for peace.

The big thing is—we're on the way.—Edna Jacques.

Hello Homemakers! A search is being made for sugarless recipes for relishes. More than ever this year, ways must be found to store vegetables such as cucumbers, pickling onions and beets without sugar. Since pickles make a plain entree very tempting, we list a few recipes that may be helpful.

UNCOOKED MUSTARD PICKLE
1 gallon cider vinegar, 1 cup salt, 2 ounces white mustard seed, 1 ounce of tumeric, 1/4 lb. dry mustard, 1 tsp. cayenne pepper, 2 cups brown sugar, saccharine (two 1/4-grain tablets), cucumber, onions, cauliflower, etc.

Combine vinegar and flavourings. Cut prepared vegetables in suitable sizes and place in the liquid. Cover with heavy plate to keep vegetables under liquid. The longer the vegetables are left in the liquid, the better the flavour. Stone or glass jars are desirable.

PICCALILLI

1 peck green tomatoes, 6 green peppers, 6 onions, 1 cup salt, 1 cup horseradish, 1 cup sugar, 1 tsp. cloves, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 4 tbsps. allspice, vinegar.

Chop the tomatoes, peppers and onions very fine. Stir all together with the salt, and let the mixture stand over night. In the morning pour off water, add the remaining ingredients and cover with vinegar. Cook on electric element turned Low until tender, tasting at the last, and adding more salt if needed. Seal in clean, hot jars.

PICKLED HORSE RADISH

1 cup grated horseradish, 2 tbsps. white sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 3 cups cold vinegar.

To the grated horseradish add the sugar, salt and vinegar. Mix well and seal in clean, cold jars.

PICKLED ONIONS

Peel small onions until the white is reached. Scald in strong salted water (4 tbsps. salt to one quart water), then drain. Pack in jars and sprinkle white mustard and pepper over the onions. Cover them with boiling hot vinegar. When cold, put in clean, cold jars and seal. One tsp. of salad oil may be added to the top of the mixture.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. J. R. asks: What is the art of making perfect fried chicken? Please give detailed directions:

Answer: Good fried chicken depends upon: Thorough coating of flour, browning, rich gravy and cooking until tender. Disjoint 3 to 3 1/2 lb. frying chicken, cutting breast in 2 parts. Each piece needs its section of skin to keep it from drying. Blend 1 1/2 tbsps. salt, 1 1/2 tbsps. paprika to 1 cup flour, and pat into the washed pieces—save leftover flour for gravy. Heat 1/4 inch of melted fat in skillet until it will sizzle a drop of water. A nine-inch skillet will require two thirds cup fat. Start meaty pieces first; then brown small pieces. Do not crowd while browning. When browned on both sides, add 2 or 3 tbsps. of water and cover tightly. Cook about 50 to 60 mins. on a large electric element turned to Low. Lift out chicken, drain off excess fat in pan. Make a paste of 2 tbsps. fat and 2 tbsps. flour, blend in pan over low heat. Stir in 2 cups boiling water or giblet stock and cook 10 mins. Pour over the hot platter of fried chicken.

LAUNDRY SOAP SHORTAGE

SOON JUST A MEMORY

Several million pounds more soap will soon be available to Canadian housewives, who may have experienced regional shortages of laundry soap, according to a recent Wartime Prices and Trade Board announcement. A redistribution of soap fat will be the basis of the increased supply.

The shortage of laundry soap was due somewhat to a recent scarcity of one of the particular ingredients of this kind of soap but perhaps even more to panic buying and hoarding. Board officials state.

Nuptials

Greenwood—Fairweather

The wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Fairweather, Grimsby, on September 1, when their daughter, Janet Lenora, became the bride of Mr. Ralph Kinsman Greenwood, of Warner, Rev. G. I. Stephenson, a relative of the bride officiated.

The bride entered the living-room on the arm of her father wearing a white satin gown with a floor-length embroidered veil, caught up with a headress of white velvet and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Talisman roses. She was attended by Miss Lorna Atkinson, wearing a pink brocaded organza gown and carrying a bouquet of gladioli.

Little Lenora Irene Fairweather was flower girl and wore a long dress of aqua blue taffeta, trimmed with pink, and carried white roses. Cpl. M. B. Fairweather was best man. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Duncan MacIntosh, of Grimsby. A reception for about 50 guests was held at The Pines. Knox Church, St. Catharines, was the setting for the wedding on Sat. evening, Sept. 1, at 7 o'clock, when Lillian Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Muir, became the bride of Mr. Charles Edward Mabey, son of Mrs. Mabey and the late Mr. C. F. Mabey, Hamilton, formerly of Grimsby.

Red and white gladioli, palms and ferns made an effective background for the ceremony, conducted by the Rev. H. M. Coulter. Mr. Gordon Kaye played the wedding music and Mrs. Norman Cowell was the soloist.

Wearing a gown of white satin, made on long simple lines with clusters of orange blossoms and a sweetheart neckline, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the Welland House. Mrs. Muir wore a long gown of turquoise crepe trimmed with crystal beading, a small feather hat and veil in matching shade and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Mabey wore a smart black suit with black feather-trimmed hat, a peach-toned blouse and corsage of roses. For going away, the bride was attired in a light blue three-piece suit, a navy hat and navy accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Mabey will live in Hamilton.

MAGUIRE—KEMP

The marriage of Doris Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kemp, St. Catharines to Mr. William George Maguire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Maguire, Grimsby, took place in St. Paul Street United Church, St. Catharines, on Labor Day afternoon. The Rev. Roy Frid, assisted by the Rev. W. Long Port Robinson, conducted the ceremony during which soft organ music was played.

Wearing a gown of white satin and lace, made with fitted bodice, cut with sweetheart neck, long sleeves and full skirt, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her long illusion veil was caught to her head with a cluster of white flowers and she carried white gladioli and crimson roses.

Miss Gertrude Kemp, maid of honor, wore pink net over taffeta with pink chapel veil caught with blue flowers. Madeline Brunton in blue sheer with matching chapel veil arranged with pink flowers, and Miss Alberta Brunton in pink sheer with chapel veil and contrasting flowers, were the bridesmaids. Colonial bouquets of asters, rosebuds and carnations were carried by the three attendants.

Mr. Fred Kemp was groomsmen and the ushers were Mr. Glenn Pyatt and Mr. S. Spencer.

A reception was held at Hotel Leonard where Mrs. Kemp, in delphinium blue with navy hat and accessories and Mrs. Maguire, in powder blue with black hat and accessories, received with the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Maguire left for Bala, Muskoka, and on their return will make their home in St. Catharines. Going away the bride wore a dress of yellow wool, black hat and accessories and powder blue wool coat.

Children's Aid Asks Your Help

On Saturday, September 15th, the Children's Aid Society of St. Catharines and Lincoln County will hold its annual Tag Day in Grimsby. The convener will be Mrs. George Warner.

At present, the Society is supervising 142 cases in the County and City involving neglect factors from physical neglect, drunkenness, juvenile delinquency to illegitimacy. The cost of this supervision has had to be met from private and other funds. In addition, the cost of supervising 146 children in free and adoptive homes has to be met by the Society. The municipality is only responsible for the care of some 79 children in boarding homes. There is every indication that marital problems are on the increase, and as a consequence, child neglect is growing. The end of the War has found a great number of families dislocated. Divorces and legal separations have increased. The children are the first to suffer and they need protection now more than ever before. The large increase in population throughout the County has created overcrowded housing conditions which are not conducive to wholesome living.

New Chlorinator Will Cost $1,655

Grimby Water Commission in special session on Tuesday night passed a motion to purchase a new type M.S.V.C.M. manual central vacuum chlorinator, complete with distributor and heater, for the pump house, at a cost of $1,655, sales tax included.

Million Visitors

Wary Customs officials at Fort Erie mop their brows and regard the future with fear and trepidation as they view the calculations of a Fort Erie man as to how many tourists have crossed the Peace Bridge during the last two months. This mathematical wizard has figured out that during the months of July and August more than one million persons crossed the border en route to all parts of Eastern Canada. Now that gasoline rationing has been banned, customs men expect an even larger boom across this bridge.

Many times we wish the tall person in front of us at the movies could be a displaced person.

AGE OF "MIRACLES"
this gigantic system of transportation.

When "Lindy's" next issue of the familiar heretofore undecipherable, "Blue Folder" is handed out you will find that it is much easier to read and very much more understandable than the "Chinese Puzzles" issued for the past half century.

The Blue Folder contains arrival and departure times of approximately 1,100 passenger trains operating between points on Canadian National Railways, as well as those running in part over other lines to points in the United States. In addition, the consist of each train is shown, with information regarding parlor and sleeping cars, and dining car service.

Changes now being made will enable the intending traveller to answer his own questions relating to such matters. Ruled lines will be eliminated from tables, except where they are needed to establish separation; borders will disappear, as well as leaders and other marks that confuse the eye.

Reference symbols will be simplified and reduced to a minimum. The index page, comprising table of contents, time zone definitions, and six months' calendar, will also carry explanatory notes, which will assist the traveller to find his way through the folder.

CHARGED JAP

Roy Marsh, Mrs. Claude Boden and the Misses Marsh are aunts. A war correspondent's dispatch telling of PFC. Marsh's death, reads as follows:-

"Disregarding a shell fragment wound in his arm, Marine Private First Class Wallace W. Marsh gave his life on a one-man charge on a Jap machine gun emplacement, enabling his rifle company to make an important advance on Iwo Jima.

"Marsh's charge came when his 25th Marines unit was locked in a desperate struggle with the Japs for Turkey Knob, a key point in the enemy's defense. Heavy Jap fire had halted the advance over the shell-pocked terrain. Casualties were mounting.

"The Iowa Marine spotted a Jap machine gun approximately 75 yards ahead of his lines. It appeared to be the key to the Jap's fire power. Disregarding his wound Marsh climbed out of his foxhole and started a one-man rush at the emplacement.

"As he advanced, his weapon became jammed. But Marsh didn't stop. He continued forward, throwing hand grenades. He killed two Japs before being wounded mortally as he stormed the emplacement.

"Inspired by his act, his buddies swept ahead, cleaning out the remaining Japs manning the gun, and the assault swept on."

put to keep up an adequate supply of water for all users. While the supply failed no one, still certain sections of the town and township had very little pressure.

Both canning factories are now running and the C.N.R. is using a lot of water. The heat wave caused more water to be used in the households but citizens did not help the situation any by living up to the lawn sprinkling regulations and consequently a great amount of water was used that should not have been used.

This heat wave has brought most forcibly to the forefront again the urgent need for a new reservoir of large capacity. As the situation now stands the present reservoir is next to useless as it will not hold more than half an ordinary day's supply and as a consequence the pumps have to be used every day from 10 to 12 and more hours. When a heavy peak demand for water comes then the pumps are operated 24 hours a day and pressure in certain sections is not what it should be.

In other words there is practically no reserve supply behind the pumps and when a sudden rise in consumption occurs the pumps are strained to meet it and operating costs rise accordingly.

It must be remembered that the present reservoir was constructed in 1904 and while practically all the rest of the system has been rebuilt and increased in capacity to meet the growing demands of a growing town and district, nothing has ever been done to increase the capacity of the storage supply.

When the Grimsby system was built 41 years ago it would have kept the then village scratching to have a population of 1,000. Now the town is away over double that size and the thickly populated sections of North Grimsby, east and west, are also being supplied with water.

Citizens are asked to please conserve water on all hot days and thus help the Water Commission to give every user an adequate supply. Next year the situation will be remedied when a new storage reservoir will be constructed.

POSSIBILITIES

Ilams, whose windows have recently been highly acclaimed for their artistic merit.

Bishop Fleming described the Altar-piece in the Cathedral which carries the Gospel of the Incarnation in terms which are meaningful not only to the northern natives but to the white men of the north, traders, trappers and Mounties.

There is perhaps no one living to-day who has had such opportunity to know the vast reaches of Arctic Canada as the Bishop, who expressed himself as profoundly impressed by the possibilities of the Eskimo for playing an important role in the life of the Dominion, and that those who advocated leaving them alone just do not know whereof they speak. They are endowed naturally with mechanical brains and that they are the most likely people among whom to find Canada's aeronautical engineers and pilots of the future.

The Arctic missions are in these days costly ventures of the Church of England in Canada and the Bishop of the Arctic is charged with the task of raising a large sum annually to make this work possible, an investment which in the years to come will be considered one of the most far-seeing ventures of faith that could have been undertaken, capable of paying in terms of enlightened citizenship dividend far beyond present hopes.

On Saturday evening the Bishop spoke to a large gathering of men informally at the Rectory, where all had an opportunity to meet him personally and to have a few words with him.

Much Laughter About Calisor Clay Proves Better Producer Than Grimsby Peach Sand.

Dunnville, Sept. 10—Quadruplets were born in hospital here at 3 a.m. today to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Smith, of nearby Calisor.

The babies, two boys and two girls, as well as being quadruplets, were literally like two at of identical twins. The first, a girl, weighing three pounds 15 ounces, arrived at 3 a.m.; the other girl arrived two hours later, and the boys were born soon after the birth of the second girl. All were placed in an incubator.

The mother, who is a registered nurse, is a graduate of Hamilton General Hospital. Before her marriage she was an assistant to Dr. E. L. McNis who "brought the babies into the world."

The Smiths have three other children, two boys and a girl, the oldest being five years old. The

Growing Wheat For 340 Years

The growing of wheat in Canada can be traced back approximately 340 years. A French settlement in the Maritimes is reputed to have grown wheat in 1605 and in 1616 Champlain writes of a fine sample of wheat being cut at Quebec for shipment to France. In the middle of the eighteenth century, Canada was actually exporting wheat, shipments in 1754 amounting to 80,000 bushels. Newfoundland and the French West Indies were the principal markets in which the wheat was then sold, but in 1770 export shipments to Great Britain were recorded. To-day, wheat is one of Canada's leading export commodities.

To All Blood Donors Thank You

2,347,000 blood donations were made in Canada, 1,423,000 in Ontario, through the volunteer Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross Society since the first clinics were established in January, 1940. The lives of hundreds in the army, the navy and the air force were saved through this service.

This record was only made possible through your donations of blood. We wish to thank you sincerely for your generous help at a time when the need was so great. Special thanks are also given to the doctors, nurses, transport drivers and all other volunteers who gave so generously of their time and talents.

The Volunteer Blood Donor Service is now closed as a war measure. A new challenge is presented, however, for many deaths occur in Canadian hospitals each year for lack of an adequate transfusion service.

To meet this need, the Red Cross is making a survey with a view to providing all Canadian hospitals with blood for transfusion purposes. To our thanks, then, we add an invitation to help us as we continue our humanitarian work. When the time comes, and plans are ready, announcements will be duly made.

OLD GRIMSBY BOY
at Oshawa, a position he took at the request of the Canadian Government, Sam Bernardo, Proprietor of County Motors here, is now engaged in the re-organization of his business and of building up the staff to its former degree of efficiency.

No. 20 E.F.T.S. was officially opened June 22, 1942, by the Duke of Kent and during the war years under the capable direction of Mr. Bernardo, the school achieved an outstanding efficiency record. It twice won the Minister for Air's Efficiency Pennant, being runner-up on two other occasions. Finally, it won a most coveted award, the "Cock o' the Walk," trophy awarded for the most efficiently operated elementary flying training station in the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme.

Also under the Brantford man's guiding influence, the Station achieved an outstanding record in Victory Loan Campaigns, oversubscribing its quota on each Loan, once to the extent of 212 per cent. In conversation with The Examiner, Mr. Bernardo stated that while now back in "harness" once again, he is still vitally interested in aviation and alive to the future possibilities of air travel. He is Vice-President of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs' Association, and is in charge of the Ontario Zone. His interest in the Brant-Norfolk Aero Club is still as keen as ever, for he was one of the original directors. This club is becoming active once again and will re-open in the very near future, he said.

Early in the war, the County Motors Showroom on Colborne Street was closed and the building leased. Mr. Bernardo stated that the showrooms would be reopened shortly and that an extensive program of remodelling and redecoration was planned.

Sam Bernardo was born in Grimsby and came to Brantford to establish County Motors in 1933.

Meat rationing came in for a lot of criticism from council and the following resolution was passed:— Mitchell—Durham—That in the opinion of this council there is no need for meat rationing in this country as there is plenty of live stock providing the meat packers have the help and the capacity to handle same.

Councillor Mitchell congratulated County Council upon their stand on the serious lake erosion question. He stated that there were a lot of fruit growers in this section who would be pleased to accompany County Council to Ottawa if a deputation is sent to interview the government regarding the building of weirs and breakwalls.

Jas. G. MacIntosh, who retired as Township Tax Collector on September 1st, made his final report to council. Tax arrears as at January 1st, were $13,509.51; arrears collected to August 31st to-

A permit was granted to Fred Jewson for alterations to his home on Park Road, which will turn the house into a duplex.

Let's not deceive ourselves by the belief that the danger is over—just because the war is won. And let's remember that inflation is always followed by deflation with its misery of bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures and unemployment.
It's your job and your savings that are at stake.
The danger of inflation, with its black shadow—deflation—will remain as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands. That may be 6 months, 12 months, 18 months. Only time will tell. As quickly as controls are unnecessary, they are dropped.
After nearly 6 years of war, industry cannot switch over to normal production of civilian goods by a snap of the fingers. Reconversion takes time. The whole system of raw materials, labor and production has to be re-gearred.
In the meantime, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are the safeguard for every one of us. It's everybody's responsibility to help make them work.

TOWN COUNCIL

by for sewers and storm sewers and also the sewage disposal plant. Also get Dr. Berry's full recommendations on bringing the disposal plant to what it should be for this town.

In opening the meeting Mayor Bull in a few remarks drew attention to the fact that "this was the first time in six years that Town Council has assembled in Peace, and while it was a joyful peace to many it also was a sad peace for others who had lost loved ones in the protection of their Empire."

A. J. Mulligan of Woodstock wrote council offering to purchase the lot on Main street between the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Stephen's block. He stated that he wished to erect thereon a two storey brick and concrete building, 40 feet wide and 60 feet deep. Ground floor to be all show room, upper storey to be two apartments and show room. Council set a price of $2,000 on the property which is 120 deep, and Property Committee will deal with Mr. Mulligan.

President Lothian and a deputation from the Canadian Legion appeared before council and offered to buy the vacant property on Main street west, just at the turn of Palmer's Hill, for the erection of a two storey club house and auditorium. The building would be 40-50. Council agreed to sell the property to the Legion for $1.

Mr. Main of Toronto, representing the owners of the Roxy theatre, appeared before council and asked that they lift the restrictions recently placed, by bylaw, on the holding of shows after midnight on Sunday nights, particularly on the nights preceding a Monday holiday. Council took no action, allowing the bylaw to stand as is.

Councillor Inglehart stated that the new town truck had arrived, but the steel dump body had yet to come. He was given authority to buy a regulation snow plow blade for the truck.

The question of doing away with the Water Commission and having the waterworks come under the direct control of the council was to the fore again when Councillor Hewitt presented a Notice of Motion that he would at the October meeting introduce a bylaw, to be submitted to the ratepayers at the January elections, for the dissolution of the Commission.

Engineer Ure recommended the laying of six inch tile in the new portion of Queen's Lawn cemetery, paralleling the C.N.R. tracks, that is being opened up for sale of lots, in order that the land can be properly drained. The work will be gone forward with.

Rev. W. J. Watt on behalf of Trinity United Church extended an invitation to council to attend Trinity Church in a body. Council will attend on Sunday, October 14th.

Tax Collector Fred Jewson reported that collections for August totalled $2,798.80, on 1945 taxes; total taxes for all years collected in August amounted to $3,123.16; total taxes for 1945 collected from January 1st to August 31st amount to $38,898.65; taxes for all years for the eight months total $42,009.12.

Police Chief Turner reported that in August there were six court cases under the traffic bylaw, a $2 fine being collected in each case; one assault charge was dismissed; complaints investigated 22; one stolen car recovered; transients overnight 2; humane Officer four cats, four dogs; dog tax collected $10.

Waterworks report showed that 15,570,000 gallons of water was pumped in August; average per day, 502,000 gallons; biggest day's pumping, August 14th, 555,000 gallons; smallest day's pumping, August 26th, 373,000 gallons; increase over August, 1944, 1,713,000 gallons; increase in average per day over August 1944, 55,258 gallons. Power bill for August was $164.22; July $152.29; August 1944, $198.55.

Charles H. Walker was granted a building permit for a brick veneer house on Kingsway Boulevard.

A petition signed by Mrs. Cora Boden and 37 others was presented to council asking that sewers be constructed on Robinson street north between Main street and the C.N.R. tracks and on John street between Robinson and Depot Sts. Council is unable to take any action on the petition until such time as the disposal plant situation is cleared up.

Mayor Bull stated that he had been receiving many complaints about weeds on vacant lots not being cut.

Councillor Inglehart reported that the weeds had all been cut except in the Fairview section, but he was having difficulty in securing labor to do the work.

Arabian Steeds

Do you know how they train the finest Arab horse. They are first sired only with the best. Then begins a thorough, strenuous training. Soon the steeds are taught to obey signals blown on a trumpet.

One of the very last tests given these fiery animals is to place them in a stockade for days without any water. Then when they are burning with thirst, the gates are opened, the steeds rush for the outside.

Nostrils distended, they smell the water a mile away, a stampede begins and they are rushing like wind to drink of that water. Suddenly then the clarion notes of a silvery trumpet are sounded—it is the signal calling them to return to the stockade. Almost every horse stops in his headlong speed, turns around, and races back—still athirst, but with disciplined obedience.

Spelling Oddity

An ignorant man while writing a letter wanted to use the word "coffee," and he wrote down "kauphy." Thus he performed the remarkable feat of spelling the word without getting one of the letters correct.

Beamsville Flyer Presumed Dead

Flt.-Lieut. S. H. R. Cotterill, D.F.C., of Beamsville who in his first brush with the enemy equaled a record for night flying operations when he downed four enemy planes in 20 minutes, has been officially reported presumed dead after being posted as missing since October 18, 1944 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cotterill, of Beamsville have been informed.

Enlisting in the R.C.A.F. in 1940, Cotterill had a long period of instruction duty in Canada before being posted overseas, but once there soon ran his score into the ace ranking and acquired the D.F.C. for proficiency and daring in the difficult art of night fighting. A native of Beamsville, Ont., he was a bank employee prior to his enlistment.

Here's The Answer

While all the war was going on, scientists in the General Electric laboratories were completing a series of intricate tests which produced the answer, after all these years, to "How slow is molasses in January?" They have discovered that a small cupful will travel one foot in three minutes and forty-one seconds.
